

Digging deep to find the solutions that matter.

For over 45 years, CONSPEC Controls has been designing, developing and manufacturing ventilation management, gas detection, process control equipment and systems. And we continue to do so with innovations that not only perform, they outperform in some of the harshest conditions on Earth - mining environments. Our ultimate goal: the protection of workers while operating environment and ventilation controls efficiently to ensure maximum safety, productivity and favourable cost containment.

Why settle for solutions that merely scratch the surface, when you can trust an industry leader like CONSPEC Controls to get the job done right.
